

Broadway Beginners 1

Here's the chance for the youngest of performers to learn the proper techniques of acting, dancing, and singing in a fun way! Students will have a blast playing imaginative improvisational games, learning introductory singing technique, and even busting some creative dance moves!

This class builds self-confidence and begins to make young children aware of the positive effect that strong communication skills can have on themselves, their peers, and adults.

The last class (on Tuesday, 5/14/19) will be a chance for family and friends to come and watch our young students strut their stuff.
